

it feels like I've been home
FOREVER.

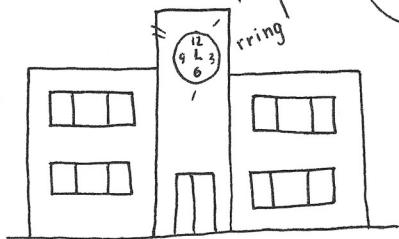

just home isn't really
home anymore

HOME is where you
RETURN to

like
from school

or a birthday
party

if you never go out,
you can't return anywhere.

mum doesn't like it when I say
FOREVER.

it's only been 10 days!

mum says:

home is where the heart is!

and YOU
are my heart

— so home
is here

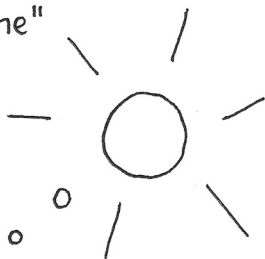

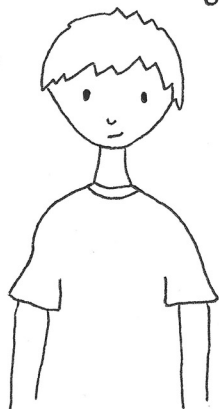

but I wasn't convinced.

on other days she calls me

"my sunshine"

or

"my little
puffin"

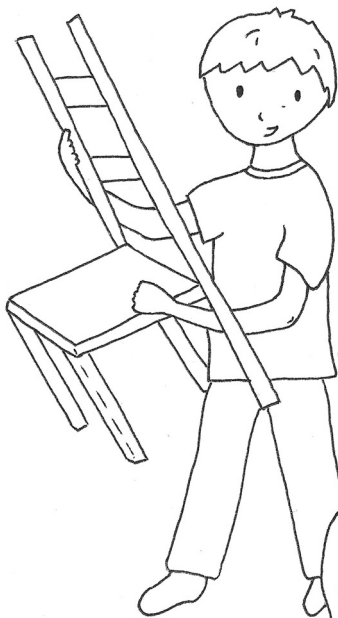

and that isn't actually true either.

teacher says: school is
at home now.

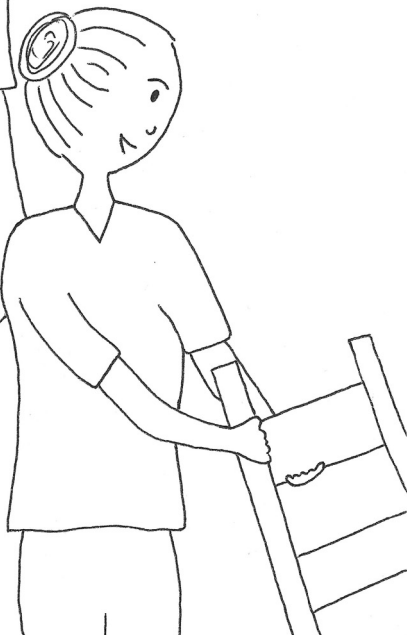

but
if school is home,
where can I go after class?

but then we had an idea:

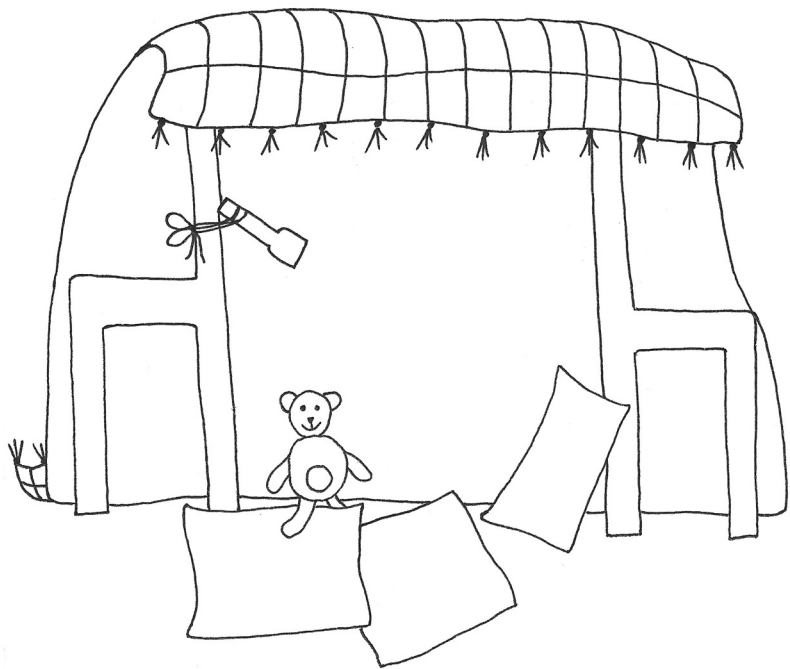

you take...

...two
chairs...

... a blanket,
three pillows
and a torchlight...

... and there you have a
